Deeply impreſſed with a true Senſe of the ineſtimable Value and Importance of your Majeſty's Life to the Happineſs and Proſperity of theſe Kingdoms, we, in common with our fellow Subjects, join in Expreſſions of Joy and Gratitude to the Almighty, for having graciouſly interpoſed to fruſtrate the wicked Deſign of a traitorous Aſſaſſin: and we moſt fervently pray that your Majeſty may live long to reign over a free, happy, and united People.

The humble Addreſs of the Inhabitants, Houſeholders of the United Pariſhes of Saint Margaret and Saint John the Evangeliſt, Weſtminſter.

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful Subjects, feel ourſelves invincibly called upon by the deſperate and traitorous Attempt which has been lately made on your Majeſty's ſacred Life, to renew the Aſſurances of our unalterable Loyalty and Attachment to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government.

The Bounty of Providence ſo often and ſo largely experienced by this Country, has been in nothing more ſtrikingly diſplayed than in thoſe repeated Inſtances in which your Majeſty has been reſcued from various impending Evils, and a Prolongation of your Majeſty's Reign vouchſafed to the Wiſhes and Prayers of your faithful Subjects.

May your Majeſty's valuable Life be long ſpared to us, and may every Effort of your Enemies ſerve only to illuſtrate more clearly the gracious Protection which Providence extends over you, to prove on what firm Foundations your Majeſty's Throne is eſtabliſhed, and to animate the Gratitude and quicken the Affection of your free, loyal, and devoted People.

To expreſs our Feelings on the late Occaſion is morally impoſſible. To dwell on the Subject is painful in the higheſt Degree, no Wonder therefore that we eagerly advert to the ſignal Inſtance of that providential Goodneſs which has preſerved your Majeſty to protect and defend (we truſt for many Years) a grateful and loyal People; we have often expreſſed to your Majeſty our ready and cheerful Willingneſs to devote ourſelves to the Service and Protection of your Majeſty's Perſon, your Royal Family, and your Government.

Senſible of the many Bleſſings which we and all your Subjects daily enjoy under your mild and juſt Government, we cannot ſufficiently expreſs our Horror and Aſtoniſhment; that any Individual ſhould become ſo abandoned as to raiſe his Hand to perpetrate ſo atrocious a Crime; impreſſed alſo with the moſt grateful Senſe of your Majeſty's gracious Attention to this Ancient Seminary of learned and religioue Education, we offer up our ſincere Thanks to Divine Providence for your Majeſty's Preſervation from ſuch imminent Danger.

We will never ceaſe to pray, that it may pleaſe God ſtill to protect your Majeſty from all Aſſaults of open Violence, to confound all Devices of ſecret Treaſon, and to grant a long Continuance of a Life ſo valuable, ſo dear to a truely loyal and affectionate People.

Mais si l'Horreur d'un Attentat sur sa Personne auguste & sacrée les a pénétrés de Douleur & d'Effroi, la Protection Divine si visiblement déployée dans ce Jour sur votre Majesté leur montre une Garde invisible que veille autour d'Elle & en éloigne les Dangers. Avec quels Sentimens d'Amour et de Respect tous les Coeurs ont accueilli ce Récit étonnant de la Sérénité, de la Grandeur d'Ame d'un Monarque cheri, qui à l'Instant même du Péril inaccessible à toute Crainte, & sensible aux Affections d'Epoux, de Pere, & de Roi, n'est occupé qu'à inspirer sa Confiance à ceux qui l'entourent. Ainsi tout ce qui met le Coeur de votre Majesté à une nouvelle Eprouve ne sert qu'à déployer de nouvelles Vertus.

Pénétrés de la plus respectueuse Reconnoissance pour la Protection dont nous jouissons avec nos Compatriotes, sous le Gouvernement paternel de votre Majesté, nous adressons au Ciel le plus ardentes Prieres pour qu'il conserve long Temps des Jour si chers à tous vos Sujets, & qu'il répande avec Abondance ses plus précieuses Bénédictions sur votre Majesté & sur son auguste Famille.

Copy of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Lord Keith, Commander in Chief of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels in the Mediterranean to Evan Nepean, Eſq; dated on board His Majeſty's Ship Minotaur, off Genoa, the 7th May, 1800.

SIR,

YOU will be pleaſed to lay before their Lordſhips the encloſed Copy of a Letter from Captain Dixon, of His Majeſty's Ship Lion, to Sir Thomas Troubridge, Bart. containing a Narrative of the Circumſtances attending the Capture of the Guillaume Tell, and a Liſt of the killed and wounded on board His Majeſty's Ship on that Occaſion.

The honorable Teſtimony borne by Captain Dixon to the meritorious Conduct of the Officers engaged with him in the Purſuit and Capture of this Ship, cannot fail to attract their Lordſhips' Attention, and enſure the Honor of their Countenance and Support.

I have the Honor to be, Sir, &c. &c. &c.

KEITH.

Lion at Sea, off Cape Paſſero, 31ſt March, 1800.

SIR,

I Have the Honor to inform you that Yeſterday Morning, at Nine o'Clock, Cape Paſſero bearing N. ¼ E., diſtant Seven Leagues, the French Ship of War Le Guillaume Tell, of Eighty-ſix Guns and One Thouſand Men, bearing the Flag of Contre Amiral Decres, ſurrendered, after a moſt gallant and obſtinate Defence of Three Hours and a Half, to His Majeſty's Ships Foudroyant, Lion, and Penelope.

To detail the Particulars of this very important Capture, I have to inform you, that the Signal Rockets and cannonading from our Batteries at Malta, the Midnight preceding, with the favorable ſtrong Southerly Gale, together with the Darkneſs which ſucceeded the ſetting of the Moon, convinced me the Enemy's Ships of War were attempting to effect an Eſcape, and which was immediately aſcertained by that judicious and truly valuable Officer Captain Blackwood, of the Penelope, who had been ſtationed a few Hours before between the Lion and Valette, for the Purpoſe of obſerving cloſely the Motions of the Enemy; nearly at Midnight an Enemy's Ship was deſcried by him, when the Minorca was ſent to inform me of it, giving Chace himſelf, apprizing me by Signal that the ſtrange Ships ſeen were hauled to the Wind on the Starboard Tack. I loſt not One Moment in making the Signal for the Squadron to cut or ſlip, and directed Captain Miller, of the Minorca, to run down to the Foudroyant and Alexander with the Intelligence, and to repeat the Signal.

Under a Preſs of Canvas I gave Chace until Five A. M., ſolely guided by the cannonading of the Penelope; and, as a Direction to the Squadron, a Rocket and Blue Light were ſhewn every Half Hour from the Lion. As the Day broke, I found myſelf in Gun-ſhot of the Chace, and the Penelope within Muſket-ſhot, raking her, the Effects of whoſe well-directed Fire during the Night, had ſhot away the Main and Mizen Top-Maſts, and Main-Yard; the Enemy appeared in great Confuſion, being reduced to his Head-Sails, going with the Wind on the Quarter.

The Lion was run cloſe alongſide; the Yard-Arms of both Ships being juſt clear, when a deſtructive Broadſide of Three Round Shot in each Gun was poured in, luffing up acroſs the Bow, when the Enemy's Jib-Boom paſſed between the Main and Mizen-Shrouds; after a ſhort Interval, I had the Pleaſure to ſee the Boom carried away, and the Ships diſentangled, maintaining a Poſition acroſs the Bow, firing to great Advantage.

I was not the leaſt ſolicitous either to board or be boarded, as the Enemy appeared of immenſe Bulk and full of Men, keeping up a prodigious Fire of Muſketry, which, with the Bow Chaſes, ſhe could for a long Time only uſe, I found it abſolutely neceſſary, if poſſible, to keep from the Broadſide of this Ship: after being engaged about Fifty Minutes, the Foudroyant was ſeen under a Preſs of Canvas, and ſoon paſſed, hailing the Enemy to ſtrike, which being declined, a very heavy Fire from both Ships, Broadſide to Broadſide, was moſt gallantly maintained, the Lion and Penelope frequently in Situations to do great Execution; in ſhort, Sir, after the hotteſt Action that probably was ever maintained by an Enemy's Ship, oppoſed to thoſe of His Majeſty, and being totally diſmaſted, the French Admiral's Flag and Colours were ſtruck.

I have not Language to expreſs the high Senſe of Obligation I feel myſelf under to Captain Blackwood for his prompt and able Conduct in leading the Line of Battle Ships to the Enemy, for the Gallantry and Spirit ſo highly conſpicuous in him, and for his admirable Management of the Frigate; to your diſcriminating Judgment it is unneceſſary to Remark, of what real Value and Importance ſuch an Officer muſt ever be conſidered to His Majeſty's Service: the Termination of the Battle muſt be attributed to the ſpirited Fire of the Foudroyant, whoſe Captain, Sir Edward Berry, has juſtly added another Laurel to the many he has gained during the War.

Captain Blackwood ſpeaks in very high Terms of the active and gallant Conduct of Captain Long of the Vincejo during the Night; and I beg to mention the Services of Captains Broughton and Miller.

The crippled Condition of the Lion and Foudroyant made it neceſſary for me to direct Captain Blackwood to take Poſſeſſion of the Enemy, take him in Tow, and proceed to Syracuſe.

I received the greateſt poſſible Aſſiſtance from Lieutenant Joſeph Patey, Senior Officer of the Lion, and from Mr. Spence the Maſter, who, together with the other Officers and Ship's Company, ſhewed the moſt determined Gallantry.

Captains Sir Edward Berry and Blackwood have reported to me the ſame gallant and animated Behaviour in the Officers and Crews of their reſpective Ships.

I am ſorry to ſay that the Three Ships have ſuffered much in Killed and Wounded, and that the Loſs of the Enemy is prodigious, being upwards of Two Hundred.

I refer you to the incloſed Reports for further Particulars as to the State of His Majeſty's Ships, and have the Honor to remain, Sir, &c. &c. &c.

For every Hackney Coach hired within the Stones End, or at any Outſtand, and driven into the Country, and diſcharged at any Place from which ſuch Coach cannot be driven before Sunſet (at the Rate of Five Miles in the Hour) to the neareſt Stones-End, or to the Outſtand from which the Coach was hired as aforeſaid, the half Fare, viz.
